By E. C. DRUM-HUNT

The Minister of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes and Mme. Grouitch entertained at dinner last evening at their residence, 2144 Wyoming avenue, where they moved last week. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tuckerman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. William Scully, Col. and Mrs. Clarence Connor and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Price Wright.

Maj. Gen. James D. McLaughlin, military attaché of the British embassy, who was to have sailed for England, postponed his sailing until the arrival of his successor, Maj. Gen. H. K. Bethell, who landed in New York on Saturday and came direct to Washington. He was accompanied to Washington by four officers, so there will be a complete change in the military attaché's office.

Gen. McLaughlin will sail from New York on board the steamship Orduna next Thursday.

Dr. Emilio del Solar, secretary of the Peruvian Embassy, went over to New York Sunday, from whence he sailed Monday for France on a special diplomatic mission for his country to Paris. He may be abroad two or three months. Dr. Del Solar will be greatly missed from social and musical circles, where he has become very popular since his coming to the capital within the past year. Besides being a linguist and scholar, he is a talented musician. Mr. Seymour McConnell, of the State Department, accompanied him to New York to bid him "bon voyage."

Mrs. Pollock, wife of Capt. Edwin T. Pollock, U. S. N., entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Cafe St. Marks.

John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union, went to New York last night to attend the various entertainments to be given there as a farewell to Dr. Pessoa, president-elect of Brazil, and his party.

Mr. R. de Macedo Sodre, attaché temporarily attached to the Brazilian embassy, will go to New York today for a week's stay before going to Southampton, L. I., for the summer.

IRA NELSON MORRIS IS IN CITY.

Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, wife of the American minister to Sweden, who landed in New York last week with her husband, has gone to Wisconsin with her children. Mr. Morris will join her there after a brief stay in Washington. He arrived here on Saturday and is stopping at the Shoreham.

Mrs. Breckinridge Long, wife of the Third Assistant Secretary of State, expects to leave Washington about July 10 for York Harbor, Me., where she has taken a cottage for the summer.

Maj. Gen. and Mrs. William Crawford Gorgas will return to Washington the middle of this week. They arrived in New York last week from a two months' trip to Guayaquil, Ecuador, when they were accompanied by their son-in-law, Maj. William D. Wrightson, who returned with them.

Senator and Mrs. Howard Sutherland have as their guests for a few days their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Walker, Jr., the latter formerly Miss Natalie Sutherland, who are motoring from West Virginia to Mr. Walker's home at Claremont, N. H., where they will stay for the remainder of the summer. Miss Katharine Sutherland, Miss Margaret Sutherland and Miss Elizabeth Sutherland will return to Washington today from Hancock, Md., where they have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. Raymond Henderson, since their school closed. They will accompany their mother to their home in Elkins, W. Va., tomorrow, where they will spend July and August. Miss Virginia Berkeley Sutherland, whose engagement to Lieut. Col. Donald Marion McRae was announced a month or so ago, will go early this week to Chattanooga, Tenn., where she will spend July with Miss Josephine Whiteside, who is well known in Washington where she has visited in the home of Senator and Mrs. Sutherland many times.

Brig. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, U. S. A., who was stationed in Washington for a number of years, will be a member of the mission which the American delegation at Paris will send to Poland to investigate the reported program. The commission will leave Paris this week. Henry Morgenthau, former Ambassador to Turkey, and Homer H. Johnson, of Cleveland, are the other members of the mission.

GOOD DIVING IS THE KEENEST JOY OF ALL DEEP WATER SPORTS

Correct Posture Just Before Diving, Posed by a Pupil Of Miss Breckenridge.

By Marjorie Breckenridge, Chief Swimming Instructor Y. W. C. A.

Diving is the most spectacular sport of water sports and because of this many people neglect their swimming in favor of it. They feed up on "demonstrations" until they lose all desire for the more beneficial foods. Anyone, particularly a young girl who has nerve, can learn to dive. It requires skill, but not as much as swimming does, so with a stout heart and a little help the average girl can soon enter water head first.

How to Dive.

The hardest part of diving is the first few attempts. The novice is apt to land so flat she will never try again, or so deep that she thinks she is never coming up again. The wise instructor does her best to avoid everything that will frighten a girl in the beginning. Most girls can be taught the proper posture immediately. They squat quite low, arms stretched out in front, hands tipped up, head down and give a good push off. If a girl is too timid to do this she must sit on the edge of the pool, arms out in front (not over head), head down, and then flip in. Next let her try on the knees, then on her feet.

Do Not Dive Flat.

When the beginner has learned to go in, keeping her head down, she must work for the spring that makes the good diver go in with so little splash. The girl stands on her toes, knees slightly bent, falls forward and as she loses her balance, straightens the knees, thus gaining the desired spring. Most people dive flat at first, because of the strong instinct to raise the head as they fall. After attaining a good dive from the side of the pool or deck, a girl will advance rapidly, trying from the diving board.

Every instructor should make it her sacred duty to warn people against diving in places where they do not know the depth of the water. The diver's plunge is the only safe dive unless done in absolutely shallow water. Don't ruin other people's pleasure in diving by being reckless and hurting yourself or even breaking your neck.

CHILDREN'S SUNRISE STORIES

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE CHERRIES

By HOWARD H. GARIS (Copyright, 1919, The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"It would be too bad not to have cherry pie to eat," said Uncle Wiggly one day.

"I'll make you one as soon as you get me the cherries," promised Nurse Jane.

So the rabbit gentleman quickly put some gasoline in his auto and called to Baby Bunt, the fat little rabbit girl.

"Would you like to ride with me in the auto, while I go for some pie cherries?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"Indeed, I would," answered Baby Bunt.

"Uncle Wiggly, the goat gentleman, has a lovely cherry tree on his farm," spoke the little rabbit girl.

"That will be fine!" laughed Uncle Wiggly. Then he and Baby Bunt rode in their auto to Uncle Butter's.

"Take all the cherries you want," said the goat gentleman. "Oh, Uncle Wiggly, and they soon had picked a full pail of cherries.

Uncle Wiggly and Baby Bunt were riding back with the cherries, when, all of a sudden, out popped the bad old Pipsawah.

"Oh, ho! Now I have you for sure, Uncle Wiggly!" cried the bad chap.

"Oh, dear!" cried Uncle Wiggly. "This is too bad! I have some cherries I can throw at you!" he said to the Pipsawah.

"Pooh! I'm not afraid of soft, squishy, mushy cherries!" boasted the Pipsawah.

"No, but you're afraid of hard cherry stones!" suddenly cried Baby Bunt.

Then she quickly took some of the stones she had saved from the cherries she had eaten, and threw them right in the face of the Pipsawah.

"Oh, dear!" cried the Pipsawah. "I didn't know cherries had such hard stones in them! I'll be good! I'll be good!" and away he ran.

Soon the rabbit gentleman and Baby Bunt were safe with Nurse Jane, who made a lovely cherry pie. And if the bicycle doesn't jump over the lamp post when the roller skate is trying to dance on one wheel with the skipping rope, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the egg plant.

TAMING MY HUSBAND

By KATHLEEN FOX.

Little by little Marjorie heard the story of Chester going to Col. Hayes' farm and buying the mate to Pegasus.

"Tomorrow, bees," said Marjorie. "We shall ride, oh, we shall ride!" And now," she added, proudly, "I shall not be envious of you or ashamed of my own mount."

"Wasn't it wonderful of Chester, Crittenden," I asked when we reached home.

He did not answer. I thought he had not heard. I repeated it.

"You know you are making an odious comparison of Chester Boyd and me," Crittenden charged.

"Why, Crittenden?" I could only exclaim.

We were on the stairway. I was confused, shocked by the suddenness of his accusation and my voice echoed the hurt.

Then suddenly Crittenden put out his hand with violent force. I swept me backward, surprised me. I stepped on the step, clutching wildly and caught the railing. I was safe, but was shaken and trembling.

Crittenden went on upstairs without so much as a backward glance to see how I had fared.

I was wretched in my dejection and humiliation. For again, in spite of the remorse Crittenden had suffered before, he had treated me with violence. Then at last, after I had slipped into the darkened living room, I heard Crittenden's step at the head of the stairway.

SMOCKS FOR SUMMER

Smocks are so comfortable and cool for sports wear and at the same time, so pretty and becoming that they are about the most popular article of summer attire for both girls and women. New smocks just now are wonderfully attractive. Silk-and-cotton crepe de chine ones in light plain colors are embroidered in wools of contrasting shades. Linen and crash ones in gay color combinations, Georgette crepe ones in modified styles, in fact, almost any material and color may be used effectively. They are particularly good when worn with the new white crepe de chine or Georgette crepe skirts.

Waist bargains such as these won't wait. Come early if you want one of these dressy Georgettes for Victory Fourth festivities.

TINSEL CLOTH TURBANS

Among the various styles of turbans now being shown is one in which tinsel cloth is used. The most popular model is the Hindu draped one made of the fabric. The drapings appear in a variety of arrangements on the pill box or elongated toge lines. Old gold, light blue, pink and steel are the colors used in this material.

Bryan, of Richmond, and Mrs. R. B. Spencer, of Chicago.

The wedding was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's great-grandfather was pastor of the old Mount Vernon Place Church, and her marriage was the first solemnized in the new church. The pastor, the Rev. Chas. C. Chappell, officiated.

Miss Morton was attended by her sister, Mrs. George E. Judd, as matron of honor, and her six bridesmaids were Miss Sue Herndon Bennett, of Kansas City, Mo., niece of Mrs. Champ Clark; Miss Esther Bryan and Miss Katherine Blanton, of Virginia; Miss Virginia Byrd Hereford, Miss Margaret Donnelly and Miss Helen Sims, of Washington.

Capt. L. B. Mann, U. S. A., of Alabama, was best man for Mr. Eliot, and the list of ushers included George E. Judd, John Eliot and William Elliot, of St. Louis, brothers of the bridegroom; E. R. Smith, S. B. Taylor and John Waller Morton, brother of the bride.

Mr. Eliot, who has until recently been serving overseas, and his bride will make their home in Washington.

In honor of the new members of Congress and their wives from Texas the Texas Club will give a garden party on Saturday evening, July 27, at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Frederic E. Farrington, 610 Connecticut avenue, Chevy Chase.

One of the delightful features will be the outdoor dancing on the pavilion, and the evening will doubtless prove as enjoyable as the many other hospitalities extended by the club. The special hosts will be Mr. Cato Sells, president of the club, and the board of governors, including the chairman, Mrs. Morris Sheppard, and Mrs. Mark Goodwin, Mrs. Joe Henry Eagle, Mrs. William C. Harless, Mrs. Fred E. Farrington, Mrs. Robbette, Miss Mary K. Brooks, Mr. Ben Prince, Mr. Walter Garde and Mr. Frank P. Lockhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dennett are spending a fortnight in New York City. They will return to their home on O street tomorrow. Miss Dorothy Dennett, who has been attending the University of Wisconsin for the past two years, is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Dennett and Col. and Mrs. Barrett at Sheboygan, Wis. On July 3 Miss Dennett goes to St. Louis as a delegate of her chapter to the Theta convention. From St. Louis Miss Dennett comes to Washington to spend the remainder of her vacation. Midshipman Rodney Dennett will spend his September leave with his parents in Washington.

WHY THOSE GRAY HAIRS?

Have you any idea how many thousands of beautiful women keep gray hairs entirely out of their heads? If it is done right it is a very simple and delightful matter. Schaeffer's Hair Color does it in one application and it is impossible to detect it. Turns gray hairs to their natural color and is perfectly harmless. Schaeffer's Hair Color leaves the hair beautiful and so easy to handle—nothing dirty or sticky.

summer at Murray Bay, Canada, where she will be joined shortly by her daughter, Mrs. Hampton Robb, formerly Miss Elizabeth Wiley. Col. and Mrs. Joseph Powell Tracy will visit Mrs. Wiley in August.

Mrs. Samuel Burleigh Milton, who has beenjourning at her summer home on Chesapeake Bay, has gone to England, where she will meet a party of friends and visit Portland, Casco Bay, Mount Desert, Maine, Boston and New York. Mrs. Milton will visit Atlantic City on her way home. Part of the trip will be made by motor and she will fill several singing engagements while North.

The marriage of Miss Gladys Elizabeth Knorr, daughter of Mr. Knorr, of Lincoln, Neb., and Giovanni Francesco Lavagnino, U. S. A., of Pasadena, Cal., was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in St. John's Church. The Rev. Edward S. Dunlap officiated and the bride was given in marriage by Dr. W. Sinclair Bowen. Her only attendant was Miss Mary Hotchkiss, daughter of Dr. J. D. Hotchkiss, of Gallaudet College.

Lieut. J. Bladen Bradley, a classmate of the bridegroom at the military academy, was best man and six other classmates served as ushers. They were Lieut. D. Stanley Holbrook, Lieut. A. C. McAuliffe, Lieut. Robert Gard, Lieut. Harrison Heiberg, Lieut. Hamilton Young and Lieut. W. W. Jervey.

The chancel was decorated with palms and great bunches of hydrangeas were used on the altar. The bride wore a gown of exquisite simplicity, made of ivory toned baronet satin, with sleeves of shadow lace, and untrimmed except for a girle of pearls. Her long veil of tulle was caught back with sprays of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white and pink roses and sweet peas.

Miss Hotchkiss wore a charming summer frock of orchid colored organdie, with a Georgette picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas.

The wedding ring, which was used in the ceremony is an heirloom in the family of the bride's mother, having been made for her great-grandmother.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a picturesque military touch was added by the ushers forming an arch with crossed swords, under which the bride and bridegroom passed. After the service the wedding party returned to the home of the bride's mother, on Sixteenth street, for an informal wedding supper.

The honeymoon will be passed at Boxwood Manor, the beautiful colonial country estate in Virginia of Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Miller, which has been loaned to the young couple for this occasion. The bride's going-away costume was a tailored suit of fawn colored cloth, with an embroidered Georgette blouse to match, and an orchid colored hat. She wore a corsage of sweet peas in the same tints.

Lieutenant Lavagnino will sail for France about July 11.

WEDDING HERE

A number of guests from out of town came here for the wedding of Miss Lucy Byrd Morton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Allen Morton, to Frank Munroe Eliot, of St. Louis, which took place last night at 9 o'clock in the Mount Vernon Place Memorial Church. In the party were the bridegroom's father, Edward C. Eliot, of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Shacklett and Mrs. C. A.
